Thomas H. Dennison, Ph.D. addresses participants at the Bowling Green Area Chamber Breakfast on February 22 to discuss the positive impact of Healthy Mondays.

Healthy Mondays Initiative Launched at Chamber Breakfast

Did you know that the majority of people who begin a new health initiative do so on Monday? According to research by Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, more people choose Monday to quit smoking, start exercising, or begin a healthy lifestyle.

In recognition of the power of Mondays, the Monday Campaigns were developed to encourage Americans to adopt healthier choices in their lives. Healthy Mondays recently became a focus in Southcentral Kentucky as a result of the Community Health Needs Assessment (CHNA) conducted by the Barren River Community Health Planning Council in conjunction with The Medical Center. The CHNA revealed problem areas of cardiovascular disease, diabetes, obesity, lung cancer, and drug and alcohol abuse and addiction among residents in our area.

The Medical Center co-sponsored the Bowling Green Area Chamber of Commerce Breakfast on February 22 to launch the Healthy

Monday Initiative. Guest speaker Thomas H. Dennison, Ph.D., Professor of Practice at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University, emphasized Healthy Mondays as a call to action for those in the workplace and the community to commit to healthy behaviors that help end chronic preventable diseases.

Read more about the Community Health Needs Assessment on The Medical Center's website, www.TheMedicalCenter.org, or visit www.barrenriverhealth.org to learn about the Barren River Community Health Planning Council. If you would like to know more about the Healthy Mondays Initiative, visit www.mondaycampaigns.org.

Commonwealth Health Corporation's mission is to care for people and improve the quality of life in the communities we serve.
